Cambridgeshire Archives and Local Studies Office

Formerly Cambridge Record Office, this holds census, church and parish records along with over 300 other items concerning Horseheath. It is located in the Cambridgeshire County Council Offices, Shire Hall, Castle Street, Castle Hill, Cambridge CB3 0AP
Tel.01223 699 399

The Cambridgeshire Collection

This is located within the Cambridge Central Library and contains a wide variety of information relating to Cambridgeshire and its people. It includes books, pamphlets, magazines, maps from 1574, illustrations from the 17thc, newspapers from 1762, press cuttings from 1960 and ephemera of all kinds. The Cambridge Antiquarian Society Photographic Archive is held in the Cambridgeshire Collection, as is the studio portrait archive of the former Cambridge photographers J Palmer Clarke and Ramsey and Muspratt. Family historians have access to many sources listing former residents of the county; directories, electoral rolls, poll books, parish register transcripts, etc.

Cemeteries

The Monumental Inscriptions in the graveyard of All Saints from the 15th century-1981 are recorded in Cambridgeshire Archives and Local Studies in the Council Offices, Shire Hall, Castle Hill. A copy of the original manuscript of 'Inscriptions on gravestones and internal monuments', by Catherine Parsons, 1897 appears in the @all Saints' Church section of Horseheath Village Archives.

Census

The Census Records from 1841-1911 can be found in the Cambridgeshire Archives and Local Studies Office and at the Family Records Centre in London (see below). The 1881 Census is available in searchable form on www.familysearch.org. Online versions are listed on nationalarchives.gov.uk/census and other websites.

Church Records

Horseheath, All Saints : Records of baptisms 1558-1927, marriages 1558-1990, burials 1558-1924 and banns 1754-1813, 1823-1963 reside in the Cambridgeshire Archives and Local Studies Office. Index transcripts of baptisms 1558-1927, marriages 1558-1836 and burials 1558-1924 also reside in the Cambridgeshire Archives and Local Studies Office. The Bishop's Transcripts for the years 1599-1649, 1662-1860 can be found in the Cambridge University Library. The parish register transcripts for Horseheath All Saints 1558-1924 are also available on microfiche from the Cambridgeshire Family History Society Bookstall.

Family Records

The Family Records Centre has all the official birth, marriage and death records back to about 1837 and sell copies of the certificates, which give additional info. It's in Myddleton St, London EC1. They also have microfilms of the census returns 1841-1901.

Land Tax

Records were compiled afresh each year and contain the names of owners and occupiers in each parish, but usually there is no address or place name. These records reside in the Cambridgeshire Archives and Local Studies Office for the years 1759, 1789-1846 and 1865-1948.
